TEN CENTS A WEEK

S STIRRING SCENE

ing of the Democratic National Convention.

ERS HEARD FOR BRYAN

vention Hall, Denver, July 9.— democratic national convention an its sessions at noon Tuesday scenes of stirring animation. The vast amphitheater of the audience was packed with 12,000 people, ever-moving, intense and expectant, stirred into tumultuous demonstration as a silent portrait of Bryan as borne within the hall. It was at 12:20 when Chairman Taggart, the national committee, called the convention to order. Bishop J. J. Keane, of Cheyenne, Wyo., pronounced the opening invocation, an impressive plea for Divine grace on the convention's deliberations.

Cheers for Bryan.

The convention promptly effected the preliminary deliberations, electing Theodore A. Bell of California, as temporary chairman. The keynote speech of the temporary presiding officer started the echoes ringing and brought forth enthusiastic demonstration for Bryan and the other party idols. The appointment of the convention committees and the presentation of resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Grover Cleveland completed the formal work of the day.

Clayton Permanent Chairman.

The committee on permanent organization met and on motion of Governor Folk, of Missouri, selected Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, as permanent chairman of the convention. For the other officers the temporary selections were made permanent, with the addition of E. Y. Mitchell, of Missouri, who was named as an assistant secretary.

In presenting the name of Mr. Clayton, Governor Folk said he had intended to offer the name of Champ Clark, but on being shown a letter from Mr. Bryan, in which the desire was expressed that Mr. Clayton occupy the chair, he gladly assented to Mr. Bryan's suggestion.

Sentiment for Gray.

There is a steadily swelling undercurrent for the nomination of George G. Gray, of Delaware, as vice-president, and this movement, at first intangible, has now assumed a definite basis which promises to merge it soon with the seemingly overwhelming current moving toward Bryan. The opponents of Bryan are still seeking to unite their strength against him, with the hope of ultimately accomplishing his defeat.

It Was a Stirring Scene.

It was a stirring scene which spread before Chairman Taggart at noon, when with uplifted gavel he sought to bring order out of the confused babel of sound and motion. The splendid amphitheater, decorated with flags and bunting, was packed to its utmost limits with a sea of seething mass of humanity. Below, in the center arena, sat the delegates, just two more than an even thousand, and back of them the one thousand alternates—these two thousand the real convention, with the destinies of the party in their hands. Flanking them and sweeping around the hall were the long lines of eager, expectant onlookers, rising tier on tier and gallery on gallery, solid masses, the brightness of the women in their gay costumes vying with the splendors of old glory, which hung at every hand.

Drift Is to Bryan.

The interest was centered in the opening session of the convention, and, aside from this the early part of the day brought few developments of importance as to candidates or platform. The overwhelming drift of sentiment continued toward Bryan, and the enthusiasm of the opening session only emphasized his commanding hold on the convention.

A strong cordon of police was stretched about the Denver auditorium when the delegates to the democratic convention began to arrive at the scene of the next four days' activities. The sidewalks were roped off to assist the officers in handling the curious throngs that began to gather about the hall early in the day.

Mounted police kept the streets clear as a passageway for those holding tickets.

Snow Cooled the Air.

In two of its streets fronting the auditorium great banks of snow gave a cool greeting to the visitors. From the mountain heights the snow had been brought down to this mile-high level on a special train, and hauled through the city in carts of various descriptions. The day was by no means warm, however, and the only effect of the snow was the novelty of an icy street scene in July.

The doors of the hall were unbarred at 11:10 o'clock, nearly one hour before the gavel of the national chairman, Tom Taggart, was scheduled to fall, a signal for the beginning of the initial session.

Denver, Colo., July 9.—Wednesday it was difficult to say which of the four principal divisions of the work before the democratic national convention, which held its first session here Tuesday held first place in the interest of the delegates when they gathered for the second day's session. In the foreground, however, inextricably entangled with all the other matters and in a most important way involving their outcome, was the work of the committee on credentials, which sat all night to hear the arguments for and against those who from several states had come to contest the validity of the certification under which groups of delegates held their places on the temporary roll prepared by the national committee.

Their Last Hope.

The importance of the result of the night's work lies in the effect which the decision of the committee might have upon doubtful delegations, or upon those whose action is controlled simply by specific instructions of the conventions which elected them and who might welcome a pretext for evading these instructions. It was an open secret that elements opposed to the nomination of William J. Bryan for the presidency based practically

MANY LIVES IN PERIL

Feared 200 Persons Have Perished at Buda Pest.

WAS RESULT OF EXPLOSION

Four Persons Were Killed Jumping from Windows—Unsuccessful Attempts to Catch Them in the Nets Spread for Them to Jump In

Buda Pest, July 9.—A serious fire broke out here as a result of a benzine explosion on the premises of a chemical cleaning company and the flames spread so rapidly that it is feared that many of the two hundred persons employed by the concern will be burned to death.

Four persons already have been killed by jumping from windows.

Unsuccessful attempts were made to catch them in nets as they came down.

their last hope of success upon the rather remote possibility that drastic action of the credentials committee, more especially in the Pennsylvania cases, might provoke a revolt among the delegates none too cordial in their acceptance of Pro-Bryan instructions, sweep into the anti-Bryan camp a number sufficient to give them more than one-third of the convention necessary to prevent Bryan's nomination. Failing in that, it was all but unanimously conceded that Bryan's nomination has become what many have never questioned—a certainty.

The Guffey Case.

The Pennsylvania cases involving the membership of Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, in the national committee, afforded a sensational episode in the opening session of the convention, when the case was referred by Temporary Chairman Bell by sheer power of the gavel, to the credentials committee, in spite of vociferous demands of Colonel Guffey and his associates for a vote on the subject then and there. The denial of a roll call by the chairman was the subject of much discussion among the delegates after the adjournment of the convention, and it was made plain that when the matter comes before the convention on the report of the credentials committee, the outcome will be anything but a foregone conclusion.

Meanwhile, the committee on resolutions, and later the subcommittee to which the platform was finally referred, held a protracted meeting. The full committee remained in session until after 1 a. m., and heard arguments in favor of many proposed planks; then it adjourned until 5 p. m., leaving the sub-committee to wrestle with the problem in detail.

As to Adjournment.

Possible final adjournment of the convention on Thursday, of which there had been a faint prospect, has been apparently rendered rather remote by the postponement of the report of the credentials committee.

While it is still the general belief that Mr. Bryan will head the ticket, and that only an extraordinary and sensational change of sentiment in the convention can prevent his nomination on the first ballot, all predictions on the subject of the vice presidency must be mere conjecture.

Change in the Cabinet.

Tokio, July 9.—The cabinet situation has undergone a change and it is possible that the announcement of the new cabinet will not be made for ten days. Prince Ito has delayed his departure from Korea for Tokio.

Prominent Alabaman Dies.

Montgomery, Ala., July 9.—Major John G. Harris, member of the railroad commission, and former state superintendent of education, died on Tuesday. He would have been seventy-four years of age if he had lived to Friday next.

More Men Still Entombed.

Usovo, Russia, July 9.—It is now six days since the gas explosion in the coal mine here which resulted in over two hundred miners losing their lives, and it is believed there are still fifty men in the mine.

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE.

Mrs. Cleveland Replies to Them Through the Press.

Princeton, N. J., July 9.—So great has been the number of messages of condolence received by Mrs. Grover Cleveland since the death of former President Cleveland, that she has found it impossible to make personal response to all of them. Therefore, Mrs. Cleveland gave to the press the following communication in acknowledgment of these messages:

"Westland, Princeton, N. J., July 7, 1908.—In our great grief there have come to my children and myself from all over our country and from other lands expressions of condolence in our bereavement and of a participation in our sorrow. My heart is touched by these and by all the tributes paid to Mr. Cleveland in word and act. I am deeply grateful for the comfort that God knows in this way. I regret that the multitude of these messages renders it impossible for me to send personal word of thanks for each. The press has kindly offered to bear for me this expression of my own and my children's gratitude and appreciation and I hope it will reach all who have thought of him and of us. (Signed) Frances F. Cleveland."

YOUNG LADY'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Daughter of Judge W. C. Worrell Accidentally Shot by Rifle.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 9.—One of the most distressing accidents and one which has enveloped Cuthbert in the deepest gloom, was the accidental killing of Miss Louise Worrell, daughter of Judge W. C. Worrell, of the Pataula circuit.

Only a moment before the accident, which cost her her life, she was chatting merrily with members of the family. Leaving them, she went into the room for a rifle to shoot a bird, she being rather an expert at shooting. The rifle had a rag in the barrel to keep it from rusting. In pulling it out her hand raised the hammer and on its release exploded the cartridge, the ball piercing the heart.

Judge Worrell, her father, was in Atlanta sitting with the supreme court in an important case by appointment of Governor Smith.

Claim Discrimination.

Mukden, July 9.—American shippers in Mukden have made formal complaint to their consul here of the fact that the Japanese railroad in Manchuria is discriminating against them. This discrimination is carried on by means of a rebate system in which foreign shippers are excluded from using the lines under the minimum charge regulation, and that they are not allowed to combine their cargoes as are the Japanese. The viceroy of Mukden has issued a proclamation ordering that German trade to Feng Hwang Cherg be treated on an equality with Japanese trade to the same point.

Ruef's Gigantic Bond.

San Francisco, July 9.—Abraham Ruef has been released from the county jail here on bonds aggregating $1,500,000, the largest amount ever given in a criminal case in this state. This sum is the aggregate bail upon seventy-eight indictments returned by the grand jury charging Ruef with bribing the former board of supervisors in connection with the granting of franchises to public corporations and upon which he was taken in custody on March 5, 1907.

Open Consular Agency.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Russia has granted the United States permission to open a consular agency at Omsk, and the American embassy here has applied for an exequatur for Adolph Reinschke. The Omsk post is the only point between Moscow and Vladivostok where the United States will be represented.

Roosevelt Entertains Wednesday.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 9.—President Roosevelt Wednesday entertained at luncheon Dr. Lyman Abbott and his sons, Lawrence and Ernest, Henry B. Newham, Mark Sullivan, of Collier's and Granville H. Fortescue, who is a cousin of the president and is attached to the royal guards in Cuba.

DON'T LIKE BANNER

Taft's Big Picture at Lincoln, Neb., Made Democrats Sore.

MANY PROTESTS ARE MADE

Despite These, However, a Big Banner with the Smiling Face of the Republican Nominee, Was Swinging Across O Street at Last Accounts.

Lincoln, Neb., July 9.—The Taft banner across O street, which has been the source of considerable annoyance to local democrats, was still in place Wednesday morning and the chairman of the republican state central committee who has headquarters in the Lindell hotel, two blocks away, said the committee had no intention of removing it, despite protests which have gone forth against it remaining in the street.

One Lincoln republican paper has made vigorous crusade against the action of the committee and the other party organs are only lukewarm toward it. The first step towards the removal of the banner was taken when a number of Lincoln business men began the circulation of a petition to the republican state central committee that it be taken down.

John T. Kent, chairman of the local democratic reception committee, declared to the Associated Press that the city ordinances against signs might be invoked to bring down the obnoxious banner, but said the republicans would be given an opportunity to exhibit their local pride before drastic measures were taken.

Chairman Hayward, of the republican state central committee, defends the action of his committee purely on political grounds.

He points to the banner as a work of art and declares that there is no objection to the democrats bringing out a streamer of their own and entering into active competition. He also intimated that the Taft picture would not be taken down under any circumstances.

DISTILLERIES LOSE SUIT.

Rehearing in Injunction Case Has Been Refused.

Cincinnati, O., July 9.—The suit of the distillers to enjoin the internal revenue officials against the new branding and marking rules met with another defeat when United States Circuit Judge Burton declined to grant a re-hearing to the local whisky interests in their injunction case against the commissioner of internal revenue to prevent the enforcement of the new branding and marking rules.

Judge Burton said that if he did take a hand at this time it would disqualify him should the matter ever be presented to the court of appeals, over which he presides, and the work of which he prefers to leave distinct from his circuit court matters.

LEPERS BEING CURED.

New Orleans Physician Tells of Some Marvellous Work.

New Orleans, La., July 8.—In an interview on the possibilities of curing leprosy, Dr. Isidore Dyer, the physician in charge of the Louisiana leper home, said:

"A total of sixteen cured of leprosy have walked the streets of New Orleans or are living in other parts of the state free of the disease. Some of them have been under observation as long as ten years, without the slightest sign of a recurrence."

Dr. Dyer gave no details as to these cures. His statement was made in answer to doubts expressed about the correctness of recent reports that the Louisiana lepers have been cured.

Fled Scantly Clad.

New York, July 9.—Fire next door to the Hotel Albany, at Broadway and Forty-first street, caused the guests to flee to the streets. Forty or fifty women in scanty attire hastily left the hotel and gathered on an opposite corner, where they stood watching the fire's progress. Many of the women had pet dogs in their arms. The hotel was uninjured.

FLORIDA MELON CROP WAS SHORT

Cantaloupes and Watermelons Not So Plentiful as Heretofore.

DRY WEATHER IS THE CAUSE

Crop Was Generally Short This Season Throughout Belt—Vegetables for Fall and Winter Will Be Extensively Grown This Year.

The Ocala correspondent of The New York Packer, the leading representative paper of the fruit and vegetable interests, makes the following resume of the situation in this section:

Ocala, the capital of old Marion county, located to be the capital of the State, is always one of the most interesting places to visit in the most tropical State in the Union. Ocala is thoroughly metropolitan and up-to-date and the improvements of the past year make this little city second to none of any size or location in the South. All its business streets are brick paved and its residence streets have the best of macadam and cement walks throughout. Ocala has two daily and weekly newspapers, The Banner and The Evening Star, up-to-date and progressive publications, also fine hotels and some of the best mercantile stores in the State.

Everyone knows the land in old Marion county is of the best in Florida, and as a result some of the best growers in the State live here. Many of The Packer readers are no doubt interested in this State and its products, and while Florida is generally credited with the production of tropical and semi-tropical products, yet many staples are grown here, with entire success.

For example, Munroe & Chambliss are the leading bankers here, but Z. T. Chambliss & Co. are no doubt the most extensive and up-to-date farmers in Florida, owning the Palmetto Park farms here of 2,000 acres, C. B. Strickland manager, and 4,000 acres at Martin, Fla., C. B. Howell manager. These farms are a combination of fruit, vegetables and live stock. Shorthorn cattle are the leaders to the number of 100, with grade stock of 300 to 400 and many scrub or native cattle to breed up from, also hundreds of sheep and goats for purposes quite necessary on a ranch of this kind. This vast farm produces plenty of feed for all the stock and a surplus of corn and other grain for market. While "baby beef" and spring lamb are specialties from the live stock department, the cantaloupe crop this season was no doubt the largest on record in the State. Palmetto Park farms, Ocala, having 30 acres, from which were shipped 3,137 crates of fancy sizes; the Martin farms of 65 acres in cantaloupes shipped 8,156 crates, also large fancy sizes; very few ponies shipped from either place. These shipments are exclusive from other fields operated by croppers, of which there were many on this vast plantation. The Wilson Produce Co. of Pittsburg handled the bulk of this crop and satisfactory results is the pronounced verdict here. The writer had the pleasure of the season in an afternoon carriage ride with Z. C. Chambliss over this, the finest plantation of its kind in Florida, the Palmetto Park farms.

Other interested growers and business people here who read The Packer and appreciate its value include J. M. Livingston & Son, real estate dealers in farm and vegetable lands, orange grove properties and everything else in the real estate line. J. M. Livingston & Son are no doubt one of the largest and most reliable real estate companies in the Flowery State.

Martin & Carns are seed and produce dealers who supply most of the growers in this vicinity with seeds for all crops and seasons.

I. N. Wiggins grows vegetables for market, reads The Packer and will have beans for fall and winter shipment.

J. D. McDuffy is one of the large melon and cantaloupe growers here.

G. T. Liddon grows cants and a general crop of vegetables, and has a fine dairy farm from which Ocala gets much of its supplies in that line.

J. G. Goin grows vegetables in season. Other Packer readers are out of town, but will be reported as to crops later.

Sparr, Fla.—Sparr is one of the best vegetable sections in Florida and while this dry season has somewhat cut the crop, yet its growers are not discouraged and are universally prosperous in spite of conditions.

The growers and Packer readers here are W. Luffman of J. W. Colbert & Co., who are large growers of cantaloupes and watermelons, while W. Luffman & Bro. are general merchants, postmaster and all round business leaders in this section.

J. W. Johnson makes cantaloupes a special crop but grows other vegetables in season.

S. D. Souther makes cants a specialty but grows lettuce and other vegetables for the fall and spring market.

L. G. Young is a Packer reader who knows and appreciates its value. Mr. Young grows cantaloupes as a principal crop, with lettuce and other vegetables in season.

W. A. Nottage grows cants, tomatoes, cukes, beans and lettuce and will have lettuce for the fall and early winter market.

Many other Packer readers and growers here were not at home when the writer called, hence a small account of Sparr trade news.

Anthony, Fla.—Anthony is one of the largest cantaloupe growing and shipping stations in Florida and is noted for the fine quality produced. Not only has Anthony that reputation

Y. M. C. A. TEAM DEFEATS INDEPENDENTS

Hotly Contested Game at the Ball Park Yesterday.

SCORE THIRTEEN TO FOUR

Honors Are Now Even With Them and They Propose to Have the Run in the Near Future—Attendance Was Small.

Honors are now evened up with the Y. M. C. A. and the Independent teams, which played an interesting and exciting game at the ball park yesterday afternoon.

Several interesting and pretty plays were made on each side, but the errors, which were many, were on the side of the Independents, the playing of their opponents being far superior throughout the game.

While the attendance was larger than that of last Saturday, it was far from what it should have been from an encouraging standpoint, and the teams really deserve more patronage from our citizens.

Clark of the Y. M. C. A. did no fancy pitching but his work was effective, as he walked only four men and struck out five. His opponent, Summerlin of the Independents, walked four and struck out one in the same number of innings, and McNally had good control and issued only one pass in four innings.

The work of the two catchers, Summerlin and Baker, was all that could be desired, while Moseley, on short for the Independents, did pretty work.

The score by innings:
Y. M. C. A. . . . 2 0 3 4 0 1 2 1 x—13
Independents. . 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0—4

The third and deciding game of the series will be played sometime in the near future, when the championship will then be settled.

here, but throughout the market world, and while this season was not all that could be desired as to quantity, yet its reputation as to quality was unimpaired. Watermelons also are a staple product here, as well as vegetables of all kinds in season.

Among the growers here are the following: W. G. Smith, who grows cants, beans and other vegetables in season.

J. P. Jones makes a specialty of cantaloupes and tomatoes, but grows other stuff when the market looks favorable.

E. L. Howell, connected with Bender, Streibig & Co., Cincinnati, O., is no doubt the largest grower here, having this season shipped cantaloupes from 275 acres of that product and watermelons from 160 acres, both crops being a success, considering weather and market. Mr. Howell is an expert grower, packer, shipper and manager and his product is always of the best. R. A. Green, representing Bender, Streibig Co., is here at present, but will soon leave for more Northern points.

Other growers here who were out of town and whom The Packer man hopes to meet later are F. W. Ellison of F. W. Ellison & Bro., large cantaloupe and melon growers. F. W. Ellison is in Georgia inspecting peach orchards. Other Packer readers here who were out are C. W. Gates, J. D. Baskin, C. A. Preist, J. A. Lamb and Noah Green, all growers of cantaloupes, melons and other products.

Trustees Will See That Scholars
Not Be Cramped the Coming Year As They Have Been in the Few Years.

Another important sale has been announced in this city, when the School Board yesterday sold the trustees of the Gainesville
High School and High School the Seminary building.

It is the intention of the trustees to purchase this old historic building up and use it in conjunction with the new high school building at the present term of school.

The enrollment of the school has recently increased, and for the past several terms they were compelled to rent houses in order to accommodate the scholars that applied for admission, and even then there were many that were compelled to remain at home at the last session of school.

Under the new plan they will now be enabled to accommodate over a thousand scholars and the present building, as anticipated, will accommodate Gainesville's rapid growth for the time.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

J. M. Brown, member of the Brown-Jennings Hardwood Co. of this city, departed yesterday for a flying business trip to Ocala.

Mrs. Beulah Tousey, who has been visiting her brother and other relatives in Jacksonville for the past ten days, returned to her home in this city yesterday.

Mrs. John M. Taylor, who has been absent for several days on a visit to relatives in Jacksonville, has returned to her home in this city, much to the delight of her many friends.

Mr. Osteen was yesterday adjudged insane by a committee composed of Drs. J. H. Hodges and J. H. Colson.
R. B. Livingston and Judge Mason, and was taken to Chattahoochee by an attendant of the State Insane Asylum.

O. N. Saunders, formerly treasurer of Levy county, but who has now become one of the leading merchants of Trenton, is in the city on a business and pleasure trip combined.
While here he is the guest of W. W.
Colson.

W. L. Godwin of Fairfield was in Gainesville Thursday. He says all the truckers of that section lost heavily the past season, and that over one hundred cars of melons were shipped from that point that barely paid the freight charges.

Mrs. Sallie A. Davis, mother of Col.
R. E. Davis, departed yesterday for South Carolina, where she will spend the remainder of the heated term. She was accompanied as far as Jacksonville by Col. Davis, who will return to the city tomorrow.

The Gainesville Junior Baseball Team which left yesterday morning for Starke, where they were to play ball with the Junior team of that city, was defeated by the score of 6 to 3.
The Gainesville boys were in the lead up until the sixth inning.

J. H. Crown, the enterprising merchant and trucker of Rocky Point, was in Gainesville yesterday. He says the farmers are all busy preparing to harvest their hay crop, which will be about the only thing a majority of them will get out of their ground for the past season.

Louis Kalbfeld of Palatka, the new lessee of the opera house in this city, is here for the purpose of looking after the interests he represents. As yet he has secured no contracts for this place, owing to the fact that the time has not been set when the building will be turned over to him.

Constable J. D. Siford of Newberry yesterday brought to this city Dolphus White and J. Johnson, who were convicted in Justice Henderson's court of larceny and fined $50 and costs or six months in the "gang." Not having the wherewith they were compelled to take the six months.

Mrs. R. L. McKinstry, who has been absent for some time visiting important points in the North and East, re-

Store-competition is the mother of bargains.

Yes, you can buy it cheaper at one place than at another—if you couldn't there would be no need of more than one store.

President Roosevelt has served notice on the Panamans that they must not employ Pennsylvania methods in their elections.

Senator Foraker cannot be trusted to deliver any keynote speech. He would be certain to thump too hard on the black keys.

Hetty Green says her daughter is not yet ready to marry the best man living. She won't be, either, unless she moves away from New York.

The nomination of Taft was to be the signal for immediate business revival, still prosperity seems to lag as if Republican policies bred panics.

"You have a beautiful country," said Cardinal Logue to Mr. Rockefeller. The answer is not reported, but it is presumed that Mr. Rockefeller said, "I have."

The trusts' idea of what must be the "reasonable profit" promised them in the tariff plank of the Republican platform can be easier imagined than paid by the people.

Now that the political excitement is at least partly over, let us get down to the more serious side of life and inquire once more into the standing of the league teams.

The policy of leaving Castro alone to his own devices seems to be all the administration can think of in lieu of the much-talked-of big stick, which it is afraid to use.

R. J. Holly has severed his connection with The Orlando Reporter Star. He greatly improved the paper and The Sun regrets to hear that he is no longer connected with the same.

The London Spectator in a lengthy article speaks of the American people as optimists, but it may feel like revising its remarks after the politicians get through "viewing with alarm."

It is said that the typewritten copy of Senator LaFollette's speech tipped the scales at nineteen pounds. It evidently was a heavy argument, but paradoxically, it did not carry much weight.

"I saw a want ad. the other day that I intended to answer, but was prevented. Perhaps it may appear again today." Such a remark helps to explain why some ads. ought to have more than one publication.

The Russian Democrats are quite naturally opposed to the present autocratic and rotten government, and the Russian Senate, finding the Penal Code does not provide for the punishment of such an heinous offense, has determined that henceforth the Democrats shall not be allowed to hold any office. What will happen to the Senate when the Russian Democrats get into power as they will some day can be well imagined.

REASONABLE PROFIT.

What is "a reasonable profit" for the industrial trusts to charge over and above the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad? The Republican managers who are hand and glove with the protected trusts and combines evidently know, but are afraid to inform the voters, for the Republican platform declares that:

"In all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industry."

As the present tariff undoubtedly upholds "the true principle of protection," for it more than "equals the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad" and has allowed our trusts and protected interests to charge much higher prices here than similar goods are produced and sold for in foreign countries, one would think even the friends of protectionism would be satisfied. But it appears from what the Republican platform declares that on top of this enormous difference in prices here and abroad there is to be a further increase in tariff rates, if the Republicans are successful, by increasing the present tariff duties, so that on top of the profits already enjoyed, there shall be added enough more to insure a "reasonable profit." It is the evident intention of our Republican tariff thinkers to allow the trusts and protected interests to say what the increase shall be, and as we all know they are not bashful in their ideas of what is "reasonable."

Under this Republican plan of tariff revision "immediately after election," and no doubt it cannot be too immediate for the trusts and protected interests, the present plight of the American people will be comfort, pleasure and affluence compared to what the future will bring, if the voters allow the Republican revisionists and their trust friends full sway.

IS THIS REFORM?

There must be a wave of Puritanism overrunning the Pelican State, for the Journal of the Louisiana House of Representatives records:

"An act requiring old maids and bachelors to either marry or adopt enough children to direct their attention along useful and proper lines."

Are the people of Louisiana reforming or degenerating to the condition of those of Salem where they burnt old women as witches? Anyway, it hardly seems Democratic, which should allow the most absolute freedom of the individual that is possible without interfering with the rights of others.

While we voted for Broward, we feel for D. U. Fletcher real friendship, and we do not hesitate to say that Florida, in him, will have the ablest Senator that she has ever sent to Washington. We had the honor to serve with him in the Legislature of 1893, and in that session, every act, every vote, and every utterance stampeded him as a high-minded, honorable and intellectual man, and we are sure that time has ripened his mind and broadened his experience. We wish him every success and hope that he may be retained at Washington for several terms and we believe his record will be such as will keep him there.—Bartow Record.

The tin plate trust has cut wages 5 per cent, but still continues to be protected by the 45 per cent tariff which, according to Republican authority, was expressly devised to protect the workmen.

Unadilla, Neb., July 9.—Five persons, all members of one family, were drowned in the Nemaha river near here. The dead:

John Doyle.

Mrs. John Doyle.

Their three children.

The Doyles lived on the Nemaha bottoms. A flood water following the cloudburst lifted their house from its foundation and carried it to the swollen river. Doyle got out of the house and started for help, but fell from a bridge into the torrent. All the occupants of the house were lost.

LIVING BODY PUT ON TRACK.

Thomasville Merchant Has Harrowing Experience at Hands of Robbers.

Thomasville, Ga., July 9.—George A. Adams, a merchant, was held up by negroes in the park here, robbed of $10 and put on a railroad track unconscious. A Coast Line train ran over his foot and revived him to consciousness. His cries brought rescuers.

His foot was amputated.

Two negroes and a white man were arrested, and the white man was later turned loose. One of the negroes broke away from the guard house and escaped. The other is held for trial.

In the Interest of Good Roads.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 9.—The American Automobile association, the governing body composed of twenty-four state associations, nearly 200 clubs and representing a membership of about 20,000 motorists, began its first open convention here Tuesday. The National Grange, with its membership of one million, is represented on an equal basis. Representatives of the American Roadmakers' association are also taking part in the conference. The object of the convention is to educate the public on the question of good roads.

Railroads Are Upheld.

Washington, July 9.—The interstate commerce commission in a decision upholds the present laws enforced by the railroads requiring shippers of lumber on open cars to use stakes to secure safe transportation. The contention of the lumbermen was that such a practice subjected them to undue expense. The decision grew out of a number of complaints filed by the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers and the Pacific Coast lumber manufacturers against several of the leading railroads of the country.

Proposed Diplomatic Changes.

Copenhagen, July 9.—It has been definitely settled that Constantin Brun, the Danish minister to the United States, will be transferred from Washington to London in the autumn to succeed F. E. DeBille, who retires from the diplomatic service. Count Carl Von Moltke will succeed M. Brun at Washington.

Four Badly Burned.

Sparta, Ga., July 9.—While doing some work in her kitchen, Mrs. G. Thomas' dress caught afire and almost her entire body was burned. Her recovery seem impossible. Her husband and two daughters, Misses Mary and Lizzie, in endeavoring to extinguish the flames, were badly burned.

A Noted Cooking Authority Endorses Cottolene

Marion Harland Says:

"COTTOLENE is now so well and favorably known and so widely used that it needs no word of introduction or commendation from me. The most eminent of American chemists justly says that it 'possesses all desirable qualities of lard without the objectionable features inherent in all products obtained from swine.'

"COTTOLENE the 'desirable' substitute, is purer, more healthful, and more economical than lard."

When Marion Harland, one of the best known and most reliable food experts of the day, recommends COTTOLENE in such glowing and unqualified terms, you may be sure of its purity and healthfulness.

COTTOLENE is made from pure Cotton Seed oil refined by a special process. Because it contains nothing but healthful ingredients, it cannot help but make healthful food. It produces light, crisp, easily digested pastry, doughnuts, cakes, cookies, bread and biscuits. It is economical, too, one-third less being required than of either lard or cooking butter.

Prove the merits of COTTOLENE to your own satisfaction by a personal test. It has always been granted highest award wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats.

Cottolene is Guaranteed

We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk

COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome; also to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

NEWS NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., July 9.—Notwithstanding the departure of the President to his summer home and the scattering of the cabinet and the supreme court, movements emanating from or centering in Washington are of more than usual interest this summer. The Secretary of War, or he who was until recently the Secretary of War and is now the Republican Presidential candidate, is in the city winding up matters for his final departure. He is now, for the first time for years, a private citizen and the most conspicuous private citizen in the Western hemisphere. He expects to leave for the Hot Springs of Virginia, with Mrs. Taft and their youngest son, Charles Taft, a youth of ten years. Mr. Taft has been in the habit of spending his summers in Canada, but it will not be convenient for the Presidential candidate to be out of the country and he has selected a place in Monroe county, Virginia, among the mountains, for his summer home. The Hot Springs of Virginia have been a resort for fifty years or more and, even before the war, rivalled the Green Briar White Springs as a fashionable resort for the slaveholding aristocracy of the South. Within the last few years it has been a resort of the wealthy and ultra fashionable people of the North and Northeast. While the Presidential candidate and part of his family will be there for the hottest of the summer months, his daughter will visit a school friend in Georgia. There is, of course, no political significance in the selection of a resort south of the Mason and Dixon line, but the fact, insignificant as it is, marks the amelioration of long standing political asperities. There are political wiseacres who predict that the Republican candidate will carry two or three Southern States in the coming election and the fact that he and his family are at home in the South will not be without its significance.

It is reported that President Roosevelt has bought a lot for a residence in the City of New York, at a cost of a million of dollars. Two or three weeks ago only, it was supposed that the President would be without occupation after March the fourth, and it was published that he was comfortably well off, having an income of at least ten thousand dollars. The question naturally arises: How is the President able to buy a lot for building purposes worth a million dollars? Many Ex-Senators and ex-cabinet officers have been known to buy homes or build homes in Washington, but no Ex-President has ever remained in the city longer than his term. Ex-Presidents have always returned to their homes in the States. There may be a reason for this. No King or Emperor, after having enjoyed or endured the splendors of State, was ever known to settle down as a quiet citizen amid the scenes of his vanished glories. The President of the United States is, as far as honors and pageantry are concerned, a King or an Emperor; and the anti-climax of private life would doubtless be too severe, as felt by himself and all who came in contact with him, for a merely mortal man.

At the State and War Departments in this city, the situation in Mexico is watched with intense interest. The Mexican Government, of course, treats the insurgents as banditti for precisely the same reason that the British Government a hundred and thirty years ago treated the revolutionary fathers as rebels. An important difference in practice is that the Mexican Government takes no prisoners but kills those it captures. Porfirio Diaz, president of the so-called republic for the last twenty-five years, has been very much praised. The government has at least one recommendation. It is a very strong government. It is despotic and in its despotism, Mexico has enjoyed such internal peace as she had never previously known for so long a period, but it is absurd to call the government a republic. The elections are absurd. There has never been a free or fair election in the country. All law, order and authority emanate from the palace of the President, whether from his home in the City of Mexico or from Chapaltapee, three miles out. Diaz might say with even more constancy than did Louis XV "L'etat c'est Mol."

There is a junta or body of conspirators against this iron order of things, and the habitat of this junta at present is St. Louis. The Irish have, or had in New York City, very much such a junta against the English Government. There are malcontents, and with good reason, against every government. Diaz has the railroads for the transportation of such troops as are in the Mexican army, which consists largely of barefooted convicts, and he will probably be able to suppress the insurgents or drive them across into Texas. But it is not at all certain but that there will be a succession of uprisings in Mexico, or that that country has a more stable government than the Central and South American countries. Diaz is very old and feeble, too, and revolution is anticipated at his death.

IS THIS REFORM?

There must be a wave of Puritanism overrunning the Pelican State, for the Journal of the Louisiana House of Representatives records:

"An act requiring old maids and bachelors to either marry or adopt enough children to direct their attention along useful and proper lines."

Are the people of Louisiana reforming or degenerating to the condition of those of Salem where they burnt old women as witches? Anyway, it hardly seems Democratic, which should allow the most absolute freedom of the individual that is possible without interfering with the rights of others.

While we voted for Broward, we feel for D. U. Fletcher real friendship, and we do not hesitate to say that Florida, in him, will have the ablest Senator that she has ever sent to Washington. We had the honor to serve with him in the Legislature of 1893, and in that session, every act, every vote, and every utterance stampeded him as a high-minded, honorable and intellectual man, and we are sure that time has ripened his mind and broadened his experience. We wish him every success and hope that he may be retained at Washington for several terms and we believe his record will be such as will keep him there.—Bartow Record.

The tin plate trust has cut wages 5 per cent, but still continues to be protected by the 45 per cent tariff which, according to Republican authority, was expressly devised to protect the workmen.

ENTIRE FAMILY DROWNED.

Flood, Following Cloudburst, Swept Away Their Home.

Unadilla, Neb., July 9.—Five persons, all members of one family, were drowned in the Nemaha river near here. The dead:

John Doyle.

Mrs. John Doyle.

Their three children.

The DoYLES lived on the Nemaha bottoms. A flood water following the cloudburst lifted their house from its foundation and carried it to the swollen river. Doyle got out of the house and started for help, but fell from a bridge into the torrent. All the occupants of the house were lost.

LIVING-BODY PUT ON TRACK.

Thomasville Merchant Has Harrowing Experience at Hands of Robbers.

Thomasville, Ga., July 9.—George A. Adams, a merchant, was held up by negroes in the park here, robbed of $10 and put on a railroad track unconscious. A Coast Line train ran over his foot and revived him to consciousness. His cries brought rescuers.

His foot was amputated.

Two negroes and a white man were arrested, and the white man was later turned loose. One of the negroes broke away from the guard house and escaped. The other is held for trial.

In the Interest of Good Roads.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 9.—The American Automobile association, the governing body composed of twenty-four state associations, nearly 200 clubs and representing a membership of about 20,000 motorists, began its first open convention here Tuesday. The National Grange, with its membership of one million, is represented on an equal basis. Representatives of the American Roadman's association are also taking part in the conference. The object of the convention is to educate the public on the question of good roads.

Railroads Are Upheld.

Washington, July 9.—The interstate commerce commission in a decision upholds the present laws enforced by the railroads requiring shippers of lumber on open cars to use stakes to secure safe transportation. The contention of the lumbermen was that such a practice subjected them to undue expense. The decision grew out of a number of complaints filed by the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers and the Pacific Coast lumber manufacturers against several of the leading railroads of the country.

Proposed Diplomatic Changes.

Copenhagen, July 9.—It has been definitely settled that Constantin Brun, the Danish minister to the United States, will be transferred from Washington to London in the autumn to succeed F. E. DeBille, who retires from the diplomatic service. Count Carl Von Moltke will succeed M. Brun at Washington.

Four Badly Burned.

Sparta, Ga., July 9.—While doing some work in her kitchen, Mrs. O. Thomas' dress caught afire and almost her entire body was burned. Her recovery seem impossible. Her husband and two daughters, Misses Mary and Lizzie, in endeavoring to extinguish the flames, were badly burned.

A Noted Cooking Authority Endorses Cottolene

Marion Harland Says:

"COTTOLENE is now so well and favorably known and so widely used that it needs no word of introduction or commendation from me. The most eminent of American chemists justly says that it 'possesses all desirable qualities of lard without the objectionable features inherent in all products obtained from swine.'

"COTTOLENE the 'desirable' substitute, is purer, more healthful, and more economical than lard."

When Marion Harland, one of the best known and most reliable food experts of the day, recommends COTTOLENE in such glowing and unqualified terms, you may be sure of its purity and healthfulness.

COTTOLENE is made from pure Cotton Seed oil refined by a special process. Because it contains nothing but healthful ingredients, it cannot help but make healthful food. It produces light, crisp, easily digested pastry, doughnuts, cakes, cookies, bread and biscuits. It is economical, too, one-third less being required than of either lard or cooking butter.

Prove the merits of COTTOLENE to your own satisfaction by a personal test. It has always been granted highest award wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats.

Cottolene is Guaranteed

We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk

COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and whole-some; also to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

NEWS NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., July 9.—Notwithstanding the departure of the President to his summer home and the scattering of the cabinet and the supreme court, movements emanating from or centering in Washington are of more than usual interest this summer. The Secretary of War, or he who was until recently the Secretary of War and is now the Republican Presidential candidate, is in the city winding up matters for his final departure. He is now, for the first time for years, a private citizen and the most conspicuous private citizen in the Western hemisphere. He expects to leave for the Hot Springs of Virginia, with Mrs. Taft and their youngest son, Charles Taft, a youth of ten years. Mr. Taft has been in the habit of spending his summers in Canada, but it will not be convenient for the Presidential candidate to be out of the country and he has selected a place in Monroe county, Virginia, among the mountains, for his summer home. The Hot Springs of Virginia have been a resort for fifty years or more and, even before the war, rivaled the Green Briar White Springs as a fashionable resort for the slaveholding aristocracy of the South. Within the last few years it has been a resort of the wealthy and ultra fashionable people of the North and Northeast. While the Presidential candidate and part of his family will be there for the hottest of the summer months, his daughter will visit a school friend in Georgia. There is, of course, no political significance in the selection of a resort south of the Mason and Dixon line, but the fact, insignificant as it is, marks the amelioration of long standing political asperities. There are political wisacres who predict that the Republican candidate will carry two or three Southern States in the coming election and the fact that he and his family are at home in the South will not be without its significance.

It is reported that President Roosevelt has bought a lot for a residence, in the City of New York, at a cost of a million of dollars. Two or three weeks ago only, it was supposed that the President would be without occupation after March the fourth, and it was published that he was comfortably well off, having an income of at least ten thousand dollars. The question naturally arises: How is the President able to buy a lot for building purposes worth a million dollars? Many Ex-Senators and ex-cabinet officers have been known to buy homes or build homes in Washington, but no Ex-President has ever remained in the city longer than his term. Ex-Presidents have always returned to their homes in the States. There may be a reason for this. No King or Emperor, after having enjoyed or endured the splendors of State, was ever known to settle down as a quiet citizen amid the scenes of his vanished glories. The President of the United States is, as far as honors and pageantry are concerned, a King or an Emperor; and the anti-climax of private life would doubtless be too severe, as felt by himself and all who came in contact with him, for a merely mortal man.

At the State and War Departments in this city, the situation in Mexico is watched with intense interest. The Mexican Government, of course, treats the insurgents as banditti for precisely the same reason that the British Government a hundred and thirty years ago treated the revolutionary fathers as rebels. An important difference in practice is that the Mexican Government takes no prisoners but kills those it captures. Porfirio Diaz, president of the so-called republic for the last twenty-five years, has been very much praised. The government has at least one recommendation. It is a very strong government. It is despotic and in its despotism, Mexico has enjoyed such internal peace as she had never previously known for so long a period, but it is absurd to call the government a republic. The elections are absurd. There has never been a free or fair election in the country. All law, order and authority emanate from the palace of the President, whether from his home in the City of Mexico or from Chapultepec, three miles out. Diaz might say with even more consistency than did Louis XV "L'etat c'est Mol."

There is a junta or body of conspirators against this iron order of things, and the habitat of this junta at present is St. Louis. The Irish have, or had in New York City, very much such a junta against the English Government. There are malcontents, and with good reason, against every government. Diaz has the railroads for the transportation of such troops as are in the Mexican army, which consists largely of barefooted convicts, and he will probably be able to suppress the insurgents or drive them across into Texas. But it is not at all certain but that there will be a succession of uprisings in Mexico, or that that country has a more stable government than the Central and South American countries. Diaz is very old and feeble, too, and revolution is anticipated at his death.

THE BLUSHING TREE.

A Sensitive-Plant Freak Unknown to the World at Large.

That certain of our Florida shrubs are so sensitive to the approach of man that their leaves actually recoil from his touch is a fact so well known that the wonder of it has ceased to awaken surprise or comment; but the discovery of a still more astounding characteristic of Florida tree-life is still so recent that it is almost totally unknown to the world at large, and partakes so much of the incredible, that human race can scarcely entertain or grasp its truth.

It is significant, too, that you will search in vain through the standard works of the world's great naturalists for any reference to the habit of the Acalapha Blusherina, or the blushing tree as it is familiarly known to the residents of Punta Gorda, says The Punta Gorda Herald.

The leaf of this tree or shrub is large, heart-shaped, and of a vivid green.

By the merest chance it was discovered that the coloring matter of the leaves of this shrub is sensitive not only to human touch but to human thought.

A little reflection will show the tremendous importance of this discovery which is nothing more or less than the bridging of the claim between plant-life and animal-life.

It may be said that to Punta Gorda has fallen the honor of discovering this missing link.

Some years ago a party of hunters, among whom were Captain P. M. Cooper and Clayton Porter, were camping at sundown beside a cypress swamp. Small game had been plentiful and it had been a good day, judging by the game bags.

After an appetizing camp supper, pipes were lighted and stories as a natural sequence were in order, and on this particular occasion Captain Cooper especially distinguished himself as a raconteur. Hunters' stories seldom partake of a grave or historical character, but the Captain stoutly denies that the discovery of the blushing tree was co-incidental with the

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary—Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. Mrs. Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 277, Metana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

moment when he was handing out a hot one. However, the fact remains that he stopped short, pulled up suddenly in the middle of his story and swept a scrutinizing glance around on the faces of his companions, exclaiming: "By Jove, what's the matter with you fellows? I wouldn't expect a mild little yarn like that to draw the blood to your faces." One of the party retorted, "What's the matter with you? When a man has to blush at one of his own stories, it's about time to hand him the halo." Just then another member of the party drew attention to the tree under which they reclined. It, too, was stained a rich, red color in sharp contrast to the deep green of its normal appearance and the radiation of its rosy tint was reflected on the face of the men reclining beneath it. "Well, by thunder!" roared the Captain, "watch her changing color, will you? She's pale pink, now yellow, and now green again. Talk about your chameleons, she makes the choicest of them look faded," rounding off these comments with a series of assorted and crackling profanities. The tree, shocked no doubt at the language, shivered a little and then gradually became transformed into a tender red thing, the very personification of modesty. "Boys," said Captain Cooper, "we've got to settle this thing to our satisfaction. If it's really a blushing tree, every man of you needs one or more in the front yard. Clay, suppose you try one of your peachiest yarns on the tree till we find out if she's sensitive to other than my brand."

Thereupon the tree was subject to a most trying and convincing test by each member of the party, lasting for over two hours, during which time, it is said, the sensitive plant-freak never lost its deep carmine tint. Of course these noble hunters assert that they quite outshone themselves on that memorable occasion, but it was all in the interest of science, but be that as it may, the discovery of this rare and remarkable tree has added another to the already great number of wonders that have brought fame to Punta Gorda.

The Blushing Tree's charming foliage adds much to the beauty of our public promenades, but it has been observed that young lovers do not linger under its enticing shade.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS

Do Not Endanger Life When a Gainesville Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Gainesville testimony:

P. Y. Smith, living at 1206 Alachua avenue, Gainesville, Fla., says: "My wife has been troubled for some time with severe headaches. She also complained of a dull pain in her back, and was nervous and weak. I decided that her kidneys were not acting properly, and procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for her at J. S. Bodiford & Co's. She received such great benefit from the use of the first box that I obtained another supply, when the pains ceased, and she is now no longer troubled with headaches. It required but the contents of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to entirely cure her."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MANY DEATHS FROM HEAT.

Hot Wave in New York Almost Unprecedented.

New York, July 9.—The tropical spell that has killed nearly two-score of persons, has prostrated hundreds and filled the city's hospitals, and held the population helpless in its burning folds for over a week. Twenty-one persons succumbed to the heat Monday, a total of thirty-eight deaths from the cause within the last thirty-six hours.

The thermometer registered 92 degrees at noon at the weather bureau, which is located in a down-town skyscraper, but many thermometers on the streets found the mercury hugging the 100 degree mark.

After suffering intensely all day from the heat, George Grody, 65 years of age, shot and killed himself with a revolver at his home on First avenue.

In the lower East Side thousands of people slept in the streets. The tenement houses were practically unbearable. In the Italian quarters, the sidewalks were lined with sleepers, some in chairs or hammocks swung between basement bannisters, while many more stretched out on quilts on the stone walks. The fire escapes were packed with sleepers.

More Prostrations from Heat.

New York, July 9.—Cooling breezes at sunrise Wednesday swept the city and brought welcome relief to sweltering thousands, the temperature at 8 o'clock a. m. registering 80 degrees. During the early morning hours one death and ten prostrations were added to the already appalling list of twenty-four deaths and ninety prostrations that the last twenty-four hours recorded.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Under Breaks the Record for Long Distance Speaking.

July 9.—All records for long-distance speaking were broken, for two hours and minutes, Tuesday, without leaving the floor, Mr. Alexander DeKalb, addressed the members of the body on the subject of the state road to the sea. The fact that the house had agreed to adjourn at 1 o'clock, without telling what the record had been.

Question will come up again at period and will be a subject for further debate before the adjournment on the measure.

In the Senate, session of the senate Tuesday, by Senator Hardman announced the election of the commissioners by the people was passed and passed by a vote of 15 to 10.

Bill by Senator Brantley to amend section 913 of the penal code so as to provide for a jury of twelve from each militia district to provide for the election of commissioners by the voters was taken up and vigorously opposed by Messrs. Farmer, Martin and Campbell. The author of the measure, Senator Brantley, was placed on the table.

A general appropriation committee of the senate held an interesting session just after adjournment, and going into the merits of the bills passed the house at the last session of the legislature giving to Georgia Normal and Industrial the sum of $15,000, with which to finish its new dormitory; to the school at Athens, the sum of $10,000, and to the University of Georgia, $10,000, to be used in remodeling the college for a dormitory, passed a motion that each of the bills be taken back to the senate with recommendation that they do pass. These bills will meet at once any needs of these institutions and will advance the cause of education in the state.

DO YOU WANT TO

MAKE OR LOSE MONEY

THIS SUMMER?

THERE is no good reason for any "summer dullness" in the stores of this city. That's a strong statement—but its not nearly so strong as the one to follow.

No store in this city ever suffered from summer dullness that was not directly traceable to its advertising policy—that was not INEVITABLE on account of its advertising policy. This is a strong statement—but not so strong as the one to follow.

You—if you who read this are a merchant in this city—HAVE THE ABSOLUTE POWER TO DECIDE WHETHER, during THIS summer, YOUR STORE SHALL LAG AND LOSE GROUND, through ENCOURAGING THE NON-BUYING HABIT IN THE PEOPLE—or shall keep as busy as in the so-called "busy seasons." You decide the matter one way or the other when you decide on how much or how little you will advertise during these summer months.

To really "gain ground" at a time when some stores are lagging and falling back is not only possible—it is an aspiration—worthy of a man who has the habit of accomplishing his purpose.
